

Julie Gray, MSW, LICSW, CMC, CPG

Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker #LW00007112

Jullie Gray is a healthcare and aging expert with over 25 years of experience. She is the principal of Gray Sage, a care management and consulting firm in Bellevue, Washington.

Jullie holds a Master's degree in Social Work from the University of Washington where she specialized in healthcare. She is licensed as an independent clinical social worker and holds certificates in the following areas: as a care manager, a professional guardian and in geriatric mental health.

Her professional experience is diverse. She managed a geriatric medical clinic, overseeing physicians, nurses and social workers; lead an emergency room social work department; and has worked in hospice care, acute care hospitals, inpatient psychiatry, outpatient medical clinics and nursing homes.

Jullie was a founding member of a hospital bioethics committee and has been an Affiliate Instructor for the University of Washington's School of Social Work.

She is a member of several national associations including the National Association of Professional Geriatric Care Managers (NAPGCM), National Association of Social Workers (NASW), and National Guardianship Association (NGA). Jullie currently serves on the board of directors for NAPGCM and participates on various committees, including the Ethics Task Force.

She is a published author, enjoys teaching and frequently speaks to community groups about the aging process. As former Vice Chair of the City of Kirkland's Senior Council, Jullie co-wrote and produced a multi award winning educational video about elder abuse and lead a community campaign to prevent falls among older adults. Now, as a member of the City of Bellevue's Network on Aging Advisory Council, she is continuing her work to create a safe and vibrant community where everyone can flourish in later life

All of Jullie's training and experience in the field supports her work as a versatile, dedicated and practical advocate for seniors and their families.